

INVITATION
Gender-In Live Workshops
Thessaloniki, 8-9 May 2023
Athens, 11-12 May 2023

Gender-In invites researchers and academics who wish to develop their skills in the integration of the gender dimension in research to participate in live workshops in Thessaloniki and Athens in May 2023. In the workshops, researchers will have the opportunity to discuss ways of identifying, analyzing and benefiting from the gender aspects of their research plans. The workshops are held in Thessaloniki (8-9 May 2023) and in Athens (11-12 May 2023). Each day have a morning session and an afternoon session dedicated to one interdisciplinary research area as outlined in the clusters of Horizon-Europe. Participants can apply for one or more sessions. The content of the workshops will be similar in Thessaloniki and Athens. The live workshops build on the Gender-In webinar series Integrating Gender in interdisciplinary research but with a more participatory approach, including groupworks on how to include the gender dimension in the participants' research projects. The workshops are facilitated by Linda Maria Rustad and Trine Rogg Korsvik from Kilden genderresearch.no, in collaboration with ELEGYP (CV attached). The workshops will take place at the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki (10th floor of Department of Education, Thessaloniki University) and Impact Hub in Athens (Karaiskaki 28, Athens 105 54).

Live Workshops Programme

Day 1: 8 May in Thessaloniki / 11 May in Athens

Morning session (9.30—13.00): Health

The session addresses the relevance of the gender dimension in research topics in cluster 1 Health in Horizon Europe. This cluster aims to improving and protecting the health and well-being of citizens of all ages by generating new knowledge, developing innovative solutions and integrating where relevant a gender perspective to prevent, diagnose, monitor, treat and cure diseases. Further aims include developing health technologies, mitigating health risks, protecting populations and promoting good health and well-being in general and at work.

Afternoon session (14.30—18.00): Social inclusion, participation, and democracy

The session addresses the relevance of the gender dimension in cluster 2 Culture, Creativity and Inclusive society and cluster 3 Civil security for society. Cluster 2 aims to strengthen European democratic values, including rule of law and fundamental rights, safeguarding our cultural heritage, and promoting socio-economic transformations that contribute to inclusion and growth. Cluster 3 responds to the challenges arising from persistent security threats, including cybercrime, as well as natural and man-made disasters. 2

Day 2: 9 May in Thessaloniki / 12 May in Athens

Morning session (9.30—13.00): Technology, industrial production, work

The session addresses the relevance of the gender dimension in research topics in Cluster 4 Digital, Industry & Space. This cluster aims to shape competitive and trusted technologies for a European industry with global leadership in key areas, enabling production and consumption to respect the boundaries of our planet, and maximising the benefits for all parts of society. One of the expected impacts of Cluster 4 is a human-centred and ethical development of digital and industrial technologies, through a two-way engagement in the development of technologies, empowering end-users and workers, and supporting social innovation.

Afternoon session (14.30—18.00): Environment and climate

The session addresses the relevance of the gender dimension in research topics in Cluster 5 Climate, Energy and Mobility and Cluster 6 Food, Bioeconomy, Natural Resources, Agriculture and Environment. Cluster 5 aims to fight climate change by better understanding its causes, evolution, risks, impacts and opportunities, and by making the energy and transport sectors more climate and environment-friendly, more efficient and competitive, smarter, safer and more resilient. Cluster 6 aims at reducing environmental degradation and reversing the decline of biodiversity on land, inland waters and sea and better managing natural resources through transformative changes of the economy and society in both urban and rural areas.

Application deadline: Sunday 9 April 2023

The workshops are participatory and will be tailored for the participants. Applicants are thus required to send a letter of motivation in which they explain their expectations, what they want to learn more about and topics they would like to discuss (e.g. theories, concepts, methodologies...).

In the application, please specify the preferred session. Applicants must be familiar with the relevant topics of the Gender-In webinar series.

Registration Form: <https://elegyp.gr/el/gender-in-webinar-registration>

Participation is free of charge.

Certificates of attendance will be provided to participants.

Preparation

Once accepted, participants will receive a reading list with relevant literature. Participants will be asked to prepare a short (5 minutes) presentation of their research to share with the other participants. The presentation should include questions on how the gender dimension is relevant in their research.
